"I feel like I'm speaking for those who want to speak out but cannot."

KYLAH

"We do have the power to make a change. Our voices are being heard and we are cared about. The people who are working, like the mayor, do want to hear us out and make changes."

TAMMY

"You can express your feelings with other people that have the same feelings that I do; feelings about things happening in the community and political leaders."

JACKIE
